WESTERN.

Five hundred men toiled all night fighting back forest fires which threatened to wipe Sisson, Cal., off the map. By an almost unanimous vote the Western Federation of Miners decided at Denver to amalgamate with the United Mine Workers of America.

Suit for divorce was filed at Chicago by Mrs. Trislie Gottler, known on the stage as Trislie Frigana, against Charles A. Gottler, charging cruelty and nonsupport.

Thirty workmen were reported entombed by a cave-in in the Snoqualmie tunnel on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad near Ellensburg, Wash.

Lakeview oil treating plant No. 2, near Maricopa, Cal., was destroyed by fire. Three hundred thousand barrels of oil were consumed. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

Ten of the largest forest fires in Western Montana and Northern Idaho this season are raging and the efforts of scores of men have made little progress against the flames.

Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the national House made formal announcement of his candidacy for representative of the eighteenth Illinois congressional district.

John B. Sheldon, superintendent of telegraph of the Union Pacific railroad, died at his home in Omaha, aged fifty-four years. He had been with the railroad company thirty-four years.

Mrs. A. M. Blume, thirty-two, and Miss Amber Rehm, seventeen, are dead, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rehm are seriously injured as a result of a collision between the automobile in which they were riding and an interurban car at a crossing.

Mrs. Leah Rosewater, widow of Edward Rosewater, founder of the Omaha Bee, and mother of Victor and Charles C. Rosewater, present owners of that paper, died at her home in Omaha, seventy-one year old. Mrs. Rosewater went to Omaha with her husband in 1864. She was born in Cleveland.

Advices to the effect that General Carranza is not disposed to make a formal agreement granting amnesty in advance of his actual assumption of power in Mexico City reached Washington from headquarters of the constitutionalist chief.

Secretary Bryan appealed to General Carranza, asking him to call a halt upon Villa, who is reported to be making wholesale demands for horses upon ranch owners in the state of Chihuahua. Consular advice to the State Department also declared the northern general was smuggling arms across the border as rapidly as they were available. There was no doubt in the minds of the people of Chihuahua as to the meaning of Villa's activity, the dispatch to the department added.

Senator Thomas of Colorado introduced in the Senate a bill providing for the closing of a special 50-cent piece to commemorate the opening of the Panama canal. The bill provides that the mint shall coin this piece during the calendar year 1914.

Subscription Campaign To Run to Close of Fair

FIRST: We do not care for subscriptions outside the state. They add nothing to the value of our advertising space and because each paper must be wrapped in a single wrapper, they necessitate extra labor and labor costs money. Papers sent out of the state are usually sent by some friend or relative to some friend or relative. To keep tab on the party to whom we must look for renewal necessitates extra book-keeping. Therefore, after the close of this campaign the price of this paper, when sent out of the state, will be $1.75 per year, and each subscription out of the state will be dropped promptly at the expiration of this time, without notice.

SECOND: It costs more to run a paper off the railroad than on it. Several publishers in this county are charging $1.50 for their paper, and are on the railroad. Our circulation has now reached a point where paper costs money and by reason of irregularity and inconvenience of getting stuff out from the railroad, we shall be compelled to resort to parcels post for shipment of materials. This means extra expense, and it is the purpose of the present manager to push on the good work of building up this paper until it meets all the demands which could reasonably be made on an ordinary country weekly, situated as it is. This means more expenditures. We have decided, therefore to make our subscribers the following liberal proposition:

Until the close of our fair, which will probably take place in the late summer, we will continue at the rate of $1.00 per year. In order to give all a fair show to adjust themselves to new conditions, we will accept new subscriptions or renewals at the rate of three for $2.00. You may thus subscribe for three friends for one year for $2.00, or you may pay up your own subscription three years for $2.00

"After the Ball Is Over"

After the fair is over the price of this paper will be $1.50 per year, within the state, and $1.75 outside the state. We shall also adopt the policy of dropping from our list each subscriber promptly at the expiration of the time for which it is paid, as this will save much book-keeping and expense.

Now, don't get mad about this. It is the best method of book-keeping we can adopt, and we are compelled to make every edge cut that will.

From Now 'Till the Close of the Fair You Have a Chance to Get This Paper Three Years for $2.00, or to Send It to Three Friends for $2.00. But This Must
